PTPN III Aims for Half a Million Tons of Paddy Production Through the Tampan Program

PTPN III (Persero) melalui sub-holding PTPN IV PalmCo berpotensi memproduksi sedikitnya 258 ribu ton beras selama lima tahun mendatang melalui optimalisasi areal peremajaan sawit rakyat dengan pola intercropping atau tumpang sari tanaman padi melalui program Tanam Padi PT Perkebunan Nusantara (TAMPAN). Program yang didukung penuh Kementerian BUMN melalui kolaborasi strategis dengan Kementerian Koordinator Bidang Pangan, Kementerian Pertanian, serta Institut Pertanian Bogor (IPB University) ini merupakan bagian dari upaya untuk memperkuat ketahanan pangan nasional sesuai Asta Cita Presiden Prabowo Subianto.

PTPN III (Persero), through Sub Holding PTPN IV PalmCo, aims to produce at least 258,000 tons of rice in the next five years. This will be achieved by optimizing the rejuvenation zones of people's oil palm through an intercropping technique with rice, facilitated by the PT Perkebunan Nusantara Rice Planting (TAMPAN) program. This initiative, which has full support from the Ministry of SOEs and involves strategic collaboration with the Coordinating Ministry for Food, the Ministry of Agriculture, and Bogor Agricultural University (IPB University), aligns with efforts to bolster national food security as outlined in President Prabowo Subianto's Asta Cita.

Kegiatan kick off program TAMPAN dirangkai dengan peluncuran salah satu varietas unggulan hasil riset PT Riset Perkebunan Nusantara, anak perusahaan PTPN III (Persero) yang fokus dalam riset dan pengembangan. Varietas yang diperkenalkan adalah NUSAKlon yang disebut memiliki produktivitas lebih tinggi dari yang ada saat ini.

The TAMPAN program began with a launch event featuring one of the top varieties developed by PT Riset Perkebunan Nusantara, a research and development subsidiary of PTPN III (Persero). The newly introduced variety, known as NUSAKlon, is claimed to offer greater productivity compared to the existing ones.
